

Selected Poetry.

It changed on a beautiful summer night,
When the moon was young and the stars
were bright.

And the blossoms that in the summer light,
And the dew of the morning's sighs,
That a moment ago in our arms was weight.

Of hopes and fears and wondering thought,
By a fairy flower that an angel brought,
From the gates of Paradise.

The south wind fluttered its perfumed wings,
And covered the rose that the balmy sighs
And the dewy spirit in mystic rings.

Like lamps at a fairy hall;
The young host, whispering sweet and low
In a tongue that only Dryads know,
Made love to the wares that danced below
To the chant of the water-fall.

The cloud-ships lay in the far-off west,
With their masts and spars and sails at rest,
Or floated along in an idle quest.

Of some bright Elysian tale;
And fairy fondles there and there
Flowed down the stream of the upper air,
And moonlight shone in the shadowy stair
Of some Gothic palace pile.

So the hours of that summer night were told,
The star light faded from river and wild,
And morning, in garments of purple and gold.

Awakened the sleeping earth;
But the cherub form, with its face so fair,
Grown of dew and of golden hair,
Like the morning sunshine gleaming there,
Still nestled beside our hearts.

"The War between the States, its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results."

The above is the title of a valuable work just issued by The National Publishing Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Five years have elapsed since the close of the bloodiest and most gigantic war known to modern history, and in that interval men have had an opportunity of thinking over the events which passed before them in such quick succession that reflection was impossible; and as a natural consequence each section has manifested a great desire to hear what the other has to say of its motives and conduct in the great struggle. This has led to the production of numerous histories and narratives on the Northern side, but until recently no authentic or really meritorious history had appeared on the side of the South. The demand for such a work was keenly felt, and there was a very general feeling of satisfaction experienced throughout the country, when three years ago, it was announced that the Hon. A. H. Stephens, the Vice-President of the late Southern Confederacy, was about to issue a history of "The War between the States." The promise then made is now fulfilled in the second and concluding volume of his great history, which lies before us.

Mr. Stephens was for many years a prominent actor in the scenes of legislation, which immediately preceded the war, and knows much of the secret history of those stirring events which precipitated the great struggle upon us. The character of his mind, his habit of thought, and his powers of analysis, together with his great honesty and truthfulness as a statesman, rendered him in the eyes of the whole country the proper historian of the events in which he acted so conspicuous a part. The indomitable energy which, in the midst of failing health, he brought to the preparation of this work, was remarkable and has been a great help in the production of the best history of the war, we have yet seen, and the only Southern history of real merit that has yet appeared.

The history of the earlier days of the Confederate Government, and particularly that portion of its existence at Montgomery, as a "Provisional Government," is given to the world for the first time in these pages. Mr. Stephens took part in the Provisional Congress, as a delegate from Georgia, and was entrusted with many important duties. His statements concerning these affairs are of great value. His narrative of the Conference between President Lincoln and the Confederate Commissioners at Hampton Roads, is the fullest and most valuable yet given to the public. Mr. Stephens was the principle negotiator on the Southern side in these proceedings, in the history of which the people of the whole country are so deeply interested. The vexed question of the non-exchange of Prisoners of War is laid bare before the reader, and the peace movements in the South are thoroughly explained.

The present volume is a narration of the events of the War, and is as graphic and entertaining as a romance, while possessing all the higher qualities of a veracious history. It will be certain to find its way into the library of every man who desires to hear both sides of the question, and future generations will regard it as the principal authority on the Southern side. It is for sale by subscription only, and agents are wanted in every county.

The Plot Thickens.

The seeds sown by Graham, Stoeber, Hayne & Co., are rapidly coming to maturity. On Saturday night last, James Smoot, a colored man, who had voted the Reform ticket, was assaulted by Otto Harlowe and a gang of negroes and beaten. Overcome by a superior force, he fled to Mr. Manheim's, a citizen of this village; in a few minutes, the house was surrounded by other infuriated demons. In Mr. Manheim's house was his wife in delicate health, and his family of little children. While Mr. Manheim was dressing Smoot's wounds, the house was surrounded by this furious mob of negroes, with the most angry yells and vows to have his head and blood. Mr. Manheim had just time to secure his escape by the back windows, when his front door on the main level of the village not more than two hundred yards from the Court House, was battered down, and these outlaws took possession of the house.

His children screamed in terror. "Don't kill my pa!" his wife uttered overcame by terror and despair, gave way; and exclaiming her pledge of honor that Smoot was not in the house, those infamous assassins, left and pursued him to Maj. Shaw's residence, the Solicitor for this Circuit, where they learned he had fled. There at the instance of peace officers Smoot was taken into custody and carried to jail for his protection as the only way to save his life. Prominent in this crowd, if not its Captain, was W. A. Hayne, a defeated candidate for the Legislature.—Merion Star, 26th ult.

The Court of Sessions.

The Court of General Sessions for this District convened at this place on Monday last, his Honor Judge Green, presiding. The whole week will be devoted to the hearing of criminal cases, as it is believed there is a sufficient number of them on the criminal dock to occupy the time of the Court during the entire week. The business before the Court is confined to cases of assault and battery, larceny, &c. &c. No civil business will be heard during the term.

Since the above was put in type the Court has suddenly adjourned, in consequence of the illness of the Grand Jury. It has been the habit, so it seems, under the new regime, whenever a sufficient number of the jurors summoned as a Grand Jury did not appear, to allow the Sheriff to fill up the vacancy by picking up from the bystanders the number required. This was done last Court and the present term. Yesterday morning Mr. Butler took this position: That section 25 of the Jury Act of 1868, authorizing the taking of bystanders only applied to the Petit Jury, and that under section 40 of said Act, the Grand Jury could only be filled up by issuing a new venire. This position was sustained by the Court, Judge Green, held that the position was well taken, and that the Grand Jury of the last and present term were illegal. The result was, the whole of the remaining cases were not heard, and the Court adjourned.

How Advertising Pays.

The New York Journal of Commerce says of one of the oldest banking houses in the country: "We are pleased to learn from its managers that they trace in their business the benefits of judicious advertising. Any one would suppose that such a bank, so long established and so widely known, might not be in need of advertising, and that it would be a waste of money to pay for advertising, and so it might be said of Messrs. Brown, Bro. & Co., Duncanson, Sherman & Co., and other leading bankers, whose advertisements appear all the year in our columns. Messrs. A. T. Stewart & Co., who are more extensively known than any house on this continent, pay us annually more money for advertising their business than any of their would-be rivals. If a house is not well known, it should become so by liberal advertising; and the better it becomes known, and the larger its business, and the more independent it would seem to be the better still does it pay to advertise. Advertising is not only a means of success, but it is at once the evidence of it and a guarantee of its continuance. Many noble houses date the decadence of their trade from the suspension of advertising." The Baltimore Sun adds: "If this is true of such extensive and well established houses as those named—and that it is, no one can doubt—how much more forcibly does it apply to smaller financial, mercantile and other business enterprises, and particularly to those seeking to establish a trade."

EUGENIE IN ENGLAND.—Empress Eugenie has sent a letter to the Emperor, concerning her reception in England. She states that all official recognition of her presence has been postponed at her request. "Nothing could have been tenderer than her treatment. Queen Victoria sent a private letter offering to pay her a state visit. The Prince of Wales, immediately upon her arrival, wrote to her, expressing the kind remembrance entertained by the Princess and himself of their visit to Paris, and of the great kindness displayed to them by her in the Tuilleries and begging to know in what way either the princess or herself could help her. The Empress says she is in excellent health and good spirits, as is also the Prince Imperial. Lord Ashburham has offered her his mansion in Sussex. The Duke of Norfolk, Lord Petty, the Marquis of Londondown and many other persons have begged permission to pay their respects to her.

Episcopal Assistant Bishop Pinckney, of Maryland—His wife.

This Assistant has recently been consecrated with great pomp and ceremony, the services being in Washington City, nine bishops were present and one hundred clergymen, all in their robes. This Dr. Pinckney is of distinguished lineage, being a nephew of Hon. WM. PINCKNEY, the great lawyer in his day. Dr. PINCKNEY was originally a Methodist, but early in life became an Episcopal preacher.

There is a singular fact about Dr. PINCKNEY: he is only thirty years old, while his wife is full eighty; his wife made the clothes in which he was christened when a baby. It is not stated whether she waited for him, or first married some one else, and caught him after she became a widow.

The Spanish Crown.—The Duke of Aosta has accepted the Spanish crown, so says the cable. That Spanish crown is a fatal gift, as the receiver will probably realize before he is many years older. It was from that Pandora's box the Franco German war issued; and, as the sentiment of the Spanish people would seem to be republican, not monarchical, the demagogues who are running counter to that sentiment are but building "a house upon the sand," which the waves of the next revolution will sweep from existence.

The Colorado Vote.—The statement that there are 18,000 negro voters in Illinois, has set the statisticians of that State at work to revise the tables showing the polling strength of the blacks not only there but elsewhere. The latest revision shows in round numbers, Illinois to have only 4,000 negro voters; Pennsylvania about 10,000; New York 8,000; Ohio 7,000; New Jersey 5,500; Indiana 3,500; Connecticut 2,400; Delaware 4,000. Of the 800,000 negro voters in the United States all but 50,000 reside South of the Mason & Dixon's line.

A PRIVATE letter from Lexington relates two remarkable incidents that occurred the day General Lee died. A large portrait of the General, which was hanging in the parlor of his house fell to the floor, breaking the heavy frame surrounding it. A large photograph of him hanging in the photograph gallery in the town, fell about the same time, and broke into pieces. There was, apparently, no disturbing cause or force to produce these accidents.

ROSADALIS

THE GREAT AMERICAN HEALTH RESTORER. Purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Catarrhs, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty of the University of Maryland. For full particulars, send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health, Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution. It will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says: "I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in cases of secondary syphilis, in which the patient had been treated by mercury, and after having taken five bottles of your medicine, the ulcerated condition of the throat was cured, and the patient was enabled to eat and sleep, and in a few days was able to resume his usual avocations. I have carefully examined the formula of your Rosadalis, and find it to be a most valuable compound of alterative ingredients."—Dr. Sparks, of Philadelphia, Pa., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of secondary and tertiary syphilis, with satisfactory results, as a cleanser of the blood. I know no better remedy.

Benjamin Bechtel, of Lima, Ohio, writes: "I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure."

PLANTATION BITTERS

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day the best and purest tonic, and the most popular medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required by every body as a cathartic, nor was ever any one so generally adopted into use, in all climates and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative. The obvious reason is, that it is a real relief, a natural remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, it is a pleasant to take, and a safe and healthy purgative, no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

It operates with a powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate to healthy action—removes the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their regular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, and the following diseases, which need this rapid cure:

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Stomachic Acidity, Loss of Appetite, and all various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Nervousness, Green Stools, Bilious Colic and Biliary Stew, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Pain in the joints, Stiffness of the limbs, and all other affections of the system, which require to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in frequent doses to produce the effect of a diuretic, and to suppress a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence, it is often taken as a preventive of disease, and in cases of indigestion, it is a most valuable remedy. One who feels tolerably well, often finds a dose of these pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
